Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

 (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

INDIANA

In 1977, 705.9 thousand persons were employed in Indiana's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented a slight increase from the 1972 figure of 703.9 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $22,718 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 61 percent from the 1972 figure of $14,112 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were electric and electronic equipment; primary metal industries; transportation equipment; and machinery, except electrical. They accounted for approximately 54 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 54 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Marion, Lake, Elkhart, and Allen. They accounted for approximately 39 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972 these same counties accounted for approximately 40 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 2 percent of the total value of shipments.

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.

(Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 240.3 thousand persons were employed in Iowa's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 12 percent from the 1972 figure of 215.5 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $8,684 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 83 percent from the 1972 figure of $4,758 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were machinery, except electrical; food and kindred products; electric and electronic equipment; and fabricated metal products. They accounted for approximately 63 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 63 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Linn, Polk, Black Hawk, and Scott. They accounted for approximately 38 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 39 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 2 percent of the total value of shipments.

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.
²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 168.1 thousand persons were employed in Kansas' manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 23 percent from the 1972 figure of 137.0 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $5,338 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 83 percent from the 1972 figure of $2,915 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were transportation equipment; machinery, except electrical; food and kindred products; and printing and publishing. They accounted for approximately 58 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 58 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Sedgwick, Wyandotte, Johnson, and Shawnee. They accounted for approximately 50 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 62 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 2 percent of the total value of shipments.

Total employment and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 Total employment: 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 277.5 thousand persons were employed in Kentucky's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 7 percent from the 1972 figure of 258.7 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $9,546 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 68 percent from the 1972 figure of $5,682 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were machinery, except electrical, electric and electronic equipment, apparel and other textile products, and fabricated metal products. They accounted for approximately 43 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 44 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Jefferson, Fayette, Boyd, and Warren. They accounted for approximately 50 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 49 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 2 percent of the total value of shipments.

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.
 (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

LOUISIANA

In 1977, 194.8 thousand persons were employed in Louisiana's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 9 percent from the 1972 figure of 179.4 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $9,418 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 120 percent from the 1972 figure of $4,273 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were chemicals and allied products, food and kindred products, transportation equipment, and paper and allied products. They accounted for approximately 48 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 50 percent of the State's employment.

The most important parishes in the State ranked by employment were Caddo, Orleans, Jefferson, and East Baton Rouge. They accounted for approximately 42 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same parishes accounted for approximately 46 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 2 percent of the total value of shipments.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.
 (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 102.8 thousand persons were employed in Maine's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 3 percent from the 1972 figure of 100.0 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $2,343 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 69 percent from the 1972 figure of $1,383 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were leather and leather products, paper and allied products, lumber and wood products, and food and kindred products. They accounted for approximately 58 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 60 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State, ranked by employment were Cumberland, Penobscot, Androscoggin, and York. They accounted for approximately 54 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972 these same counties accounted for approximately 52 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 3 percent of the total value of shipments.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 243.2 thousand persons were employed in Maryland's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented a decrease of 5 percent from the 1972 figure of 255.6 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $7,116 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 51 percent from the 1972 figure of $4,707 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were electric and electronic equipment, food and kindred products, primary metal industries, and printing and publishing. They accounted for approximately 44 percent of the State's 1977 employment. The order has shifted from 1972 when industry groups food and kindred products, primary metal industries, electric and electronic equipment, and printing and publishing accounted for approximately 43 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Baltimore (independent city), Baltimore County, Anne Arundel County, and Montgomery County. They accounted for approximately 66 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. The order has shifted from 1972 when Baltimore (independent city), Baltimore County, Anne Arundel County, and Washington County accounted for approximately 72 percent of the States employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 3 percent of the total value of shipments.

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.
 (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

MASSACHUSETTS

In 1977, 613.4 thousand persons were employed in Massachusetts's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented a decrease of 1 percent from the 1972 figure of 618.9 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $16,349 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 53 percent from the 1972 figure of $10,678 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were machinery, except electrical; electric and electronic equipment; fabricated metal products; and instruments and related products. They accounted for approximately 41 percent of the State's 1977 employment. The order has shifted from 1972 when industry groups electric and electronic equipment; machinery, except electrical; apparel and other textile products; and fabricated metal products accounted for approximately 40 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Middlesex, Worcester, Essex, and Bristol. They accounted for approximately 64 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 65 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 1 percent of the total value of shipments.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.
 (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" or "town" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 1,115.9 thousand persons were employed in Michigan's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 4 percent from the 1972 figure of 1,076.2 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $37,566 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 61 percent from the 1972 figure of $23,376 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were transportation equipment; machinery, except electrical; fabricated metal products; and primary metal industries. They accounted for approximately 62 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 53 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland. They accounted for approximately 49 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 50 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 2 percent of the total value of shipments.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.
 (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.
²Aggregate of cost of materials and value of shipments for industry groups (2- and 3-digit) and for all manufacturing industries includes extensive duplication, since products of some industries are used as materials by others (see appendix B).

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 331.7 thousand persons were employed in Minnesota's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 10 percent from the 1972 figure of 302.2 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $9,605 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 74 percent from the 1972 figure of $5,524 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were machinery, except electrical; food and kindred products; fabricated metal products; and printing and publishing. They accounted for approximately 50 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 51 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Hennepin, Ramsey, Anoka, and Dakota. They accounted for approximately 61 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 61 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 4 percent of the total value of shipments.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.
(Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

MISSISSIPPI

In 1977, 219.4 thousand persons were employed in Mississippi's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 9 percent from the 1972 figure of 200.4 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $5,619 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 99 percent from the 1972 figure of $2,825 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were apparel and other textile products, transportation equipment, lumber and wood products, and electric and electronic equipment. They accounted for approximately 51 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 50 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Jackson, Hinds, Lee, and Lowndes. They accounted for approximately 30 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 26 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 3 percent of the total value of shipments.

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.

(Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

MISSOURI

In 1977, 433.3 thousand persons were employed in Missouri's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented a slight decrease from the 1972 figure of 434.3 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $13,087 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 60 percent from the 1972 figure of $8,169 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were transportation equipment, food and kindred products, electric and electronic equipment, and fabricated metal products. They accounted for approximately 41 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 42 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were St. Louis County, St. Louis (Independent City), Jackson County, and Green County. They accounted for approximately 64 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. In 1972, these same counties accounted for approximately 66 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 3 percent of the total value of shipments.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B). - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "All industries" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 -- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (S) Withheld because estimate did not meet publication standards.
 (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "County" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
 - Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

Note: "City" level includes data on number of establishments, total employment, and total payroll for central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).
- Represents zero. (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies. (NA) Not available. (Z) Less than 50 thousand dollars or hours; under 50 employees.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 1977, 23.5 thousand persons were employed in Montana's manufacturing establishments. This figure represented an increase of 10 percent from the 1972 figure of 21.4 thousand workers.

The total value added by manufacture for the State amounted to $802 million in 1977, an increase of approximately 73 percent from the 1972 figure of $463 million. All dollar figures in this report are in current dollars and are, therefore, not adjusted for changes in price levels.

In the State, the most important industry groups ranked by employment were lumber and wood products, primary metal industries, food and kindred products, and printing and publishing. They accounted for approximately 80 percent of the State's 1977 employment. These same industry groups were in the forefront for 1972 when they accounted for approximately 75 percent of the State's employment.

The most important counties in the State ranked by employment were Missoula, Yellowstone, Flathead, and Cascade. They accounted for approximately 59 percent of the State's 1977 manufacturing employment. The order has shifted from 1972 when Yellowstone, Flathead, Missoula, and Cascade accounted for approximately 54 percent of the State's employment.

The methods of data collection and use of administrative records data are discussed in detail in the Introduction. Small single-unit companies with up to 20 employees (the cutoff varied by industry) were excluded from the mail portion of the census. For these establishments (and a small number of larger establishments whose reports were not received in time to be tabulated), statistics on payrolls and receipts were obtained from administrative records of other government agencies. Other statistics were developed from industry averages. For this State, these establishments accounted for 6 percent of the total value of shipments.

²Including central administrative offices and auxiliaries (for definition, see appendix B).

APPENDIX B. Explanation of Terms

This appendix is in two sections. Section 1 includes items for which all establishments that were mailed census of manufactures forms were requested to supply information. Section 2 covers supplementary items for which only establishments included in the annual survey of manufactures (ASM) sample were requested to supply information. Results of the supplementary ASM inquiries are included in this report. (See the Introduction, Manufacturing Universe and Census Report Forms, for a detailed explanation of the use of the ASM sample in a census of manufactures year and a description of the various report forms.)

SECTION 1. ITEMS COLLECTED ON ALL CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES REPORT FORMS

Employment and related items—The regular report forms requested separate information on production workers as of a payroll period for each quarter of the year and on other employees as of the payroll period which included the 12th of March.

All employees—This item includes all full-time and part-time employees on the payrolls of operating manufacturing establishments during any part of the pay period ending nearest the 12th of the months specified on the report form. Included are all persons on paid sick leave, paid holidays and paid vacations during these pay periods. Officers of corporations are included as employees; proprietors and partners of unincorporated firms are excluded. The "all employees" number is the average number of production workers plus the number of other employees in mid-March. The number of production workers is the average for the mid-month payroll periods of March, May, August, and November.

Production workers—This item includes workers (up through the working foreman level) engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspecting, receiving, storing, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping (but not delivering), maintenance, repair, janitorial and watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plant's own use (e.g., power plant), recordkeeping, and other services closely associated with these production operations at the establishment covered by the report. Supervisory employees above the working foreman level are excluded from this category.

All other employees—This item covers nonproduction personnel of the manufacturing establishment, including those engaged in factory supervision above the working foreman level, sales (including driver salesmen), sales delivery (highway truck drivers and their helpers), advertising, credit, collection, installation and servicing of own products, clerical and routine office functions, executive, purchasing, financing, legal, personnel (including cafeteria, medical, etc.), professional, and technical. Also included are employees on the payroll of the manufacturing establishment who are engaged in the construction of major additions or alterations to the plant and who are utilized as a separate work force.

In addition to reports sent to operating manufacturing establishments, information on employment during the payroll period which included March 12 and annual payrolls was also requested of administrative offices or auxiliary units (e.g., warehouses and research and development laboratories) of multiestablishment companies. However, these figures are not included in the totals for individual industries shown in this report. They are included in the Summary and Geographic Area reports and in the final bound volumes as a separate category.

Administrative office and auxiliary unit employees—As noted in the Introduction, companies were asked to file a special report form for any administrative office that was at a different location than the establishments managed or served, or at the same location as one of the establishments but not operated as an integral part of the establishment. Employees in administrative offices are concerned with the general management of multiestablishment companies, i.e., with the general supervision and control of two units or more, such as manufacturing plants, mines, sales branches, or stores. The functions of these employees may include (1) program planning, including sales research and coordination of purchasing, production, and distribution; (2) company purchasing, including general contracts and purchasing methods; (3) company financial policy and accounting, tax accounting, company sales and profits reports, and personnel accounting; (4) general engineering, including design of product machinery and equipment, and direction of engineering effort conducted at the individual operation locations; (5) direction of company personnel matters; and (6) legal and patent matters. Auxiliaries are separate storage facilities, garages, repair shops, purchasing offices, sales promotion offices, research and development organizations, etc., serving the plants or central management of the company.

The employment and payrolls of the administrative offices and auxiliaries serving manufacturing establishments are included in all tables at the "all industries" level. In tables where industry detail is shown, the data for these units appear as a separate industry group.

Payrolls—This item includes the gross earnings paid in the calendar year 1977 to all employees on the payroll of operating manufacturing establishments. Respondents were told they could follow the definition of payrolls used for calculating the Federal withholding tax. It includes all forms of compensation such as salaries, wages, commissions, dismissal pay, all bonuses, vacation and sick leave pay, and compensation in kind, prior to such deductions as employees' Social Security contributions, withholding taxes, group insurance, union dues, and savings bonds. The total includes salaries of officers of corporations, but excludes payments to proprietors or partners of unincorporated concerns. Also excluded are payments to members of Armed Forces and pensioners carried on the active payroll of manufacturing establishments.

The census definition of payrolls is identical to that recommended to all Federal statistical agencies by the Office of Federal Statistical Policy and Standards. It should be noted that this definition does not include employers' Social Security contributions or other nonpayroll labor costs such as employees' pension plans, group insurance premiums, and workers' compensation.

The ASM provides estimates of employers' supplemental labor costs, both those required by Federal and State laws and those incurred voluntarily or as part of collective bargaining agreements. (Supplemental labor costs are explained later in this appendix.)

As in the case of employment figures, the payrolls of separate administrative offices and auxiliary units of multi-establishment companies are included in all tables at the "all industries" level. In tables where industry detail is shown, the data for these units appear as a separate industry group.

Production worker hours—This item covers hours worked or paid for at the plant, including actual overtime hours (not straight-time equivalent hours). It excludes hours paid for vacations, holidays, or sick leave when the employee was not at the plant.

Cost of materials—This item refers to direct charges actually paid or payable for items consumed or put into production during the year, including freight charges and other direct charges incurred by the establishment in acquiring these materials. It includes the cost of materials or fuel consumed, regardless of whether what was consumed was purchased by the individual establishment from other companies, transferred to it from other establishments of the same company, or withdrawn from inventory during the year.

The important components of this cost item are (1) all raw materials, semifinished goods, parts, components, containers, scrap, and supplies put into production or used as operating supplies and for repair and maintenance during the year; (2) electric energy purchased; (3) fuels consumed for heat, power, or generating electricity; (4) work done by others on materials or parts furnished by manufacturing establishments (contract work); and (5) products bought and resold in the same condition. (See discussion of duplication of data.)

Value of shipments—This item covers the received or receivable net selling values, f.o.b. plant (exclusive of freight and taxes), of all products shipped, both primary and secondary, as well as all miscellaneous receipts, such as receipts for contract work performed for others, installation and repair, sales of scrap, and sale of products bought and resold without further processing. Included are all items made by or for the establishments from materials owned by it whether sold, transferred to other plants of the same company, or shipped on consignment. The net selling value of products made in one plant on a contract basis from materials owned by another was reported by the plant providing the materials.

In the case of multiunit companies, the manufacturer was requested to report the value of products transferred to other establishments of the same company at full economic or commercial value, i.e., including not only the direct costs of production but also a reasonable proportion of "all other costs" (including company overhead) and profit. (See discussion of duplication of data.)

Duplication in cost of materials and value of shipments—The aggregate of the cost of materials and value of shipments figures for industry groups and for all manufacturing industries includes large amounts of duplication, since the products of some industries are used as materials by others. With some important exceptions, such as for motor vehicles and parts, this duplication is not significant at the 4-digit industry level. However, it is significant at the 2-digit and 3-digit industry group level because these totals often include industries which represent successive stages in the production of a finished manufactured product. Examples are the addition of flour mills to bakeries in the "Food" group and the addition of pulp mills to paper mills in the "Paper and Allied Products" group of industries. Estimates of the overall extent of this duplication indicate that the value of manufactured products exclusive of such duplication—the value of finished manufactures—tends to approximate two-thirds of the total value of products reported in the census of manufactures.

Value added by manufacture—This measure of manufacturing activity is derived by subtracting the cost of materials, supplies, containers, fuel, purchased electricity, and contract work from the value of shipments (products manufactured plus receipts for services rendered). The result of this calculation is then adjusted by the addition of value added by merchandising operations (i.e., the difference between the sales value and the cost of merchandise sold without further manufacture, processing, or assembly) plus the net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventories between the beginning and end of the year.

"Value added" avoids the duplication in the figure for value of shipments which results from the use of products of some establishments as materials by others. Value added is considered to be the best value measure available for comparing the relative economic importance of manufacturing among industries and geographic areas.

New and used capital expenditures—For establishments in operation and establishments under construction but not yet in operation, manufacturers were asked to report their new expenditures for (1) permanent additions and major alterations to manufacturing establishments, and (2) machinery and equipment used for replacement and additions to plant capacity if they were of the type for which depreciation accounts were ordinarily maintained.

The totals for new expenditures exclude that portion of expenditures leased from nonmanufacturing concerns, new facilities owned by the Federal Government but operated under contract by private companies, and plant and equipment furnished to the manufacturer by communities and nonprofit organizations. Also excluded are expenditures for used plant and equipment (although reported in the census), expenditures for land, and cost of maintenance and repairs charged as current operating expenses.

Manufacturers were also requested to report the value of all used buildings and equipment purchased during the year at the purchase price. For any equipment or structure transferred to the use of the reporting establishment by the parent company or one of its subsidiaries, the value at which it was transferred to the establishment was to be reported. Furthermore, if the establishment changed ownership during the year, the cost of the fixed assets (building and equipment) was to be reported under used capital expenditures.

Total expenditures for used plant and equipment is a universe figure; i.e., it is collected on all census forms. However, the breakdown of this figure between expenditures for used buildings and other structures and expenditures for used machinery and equipment is collected only on the ASM form and is subject to sampling error (see table 3b, chapters 2 and 4).

End-of-year inventories—Respondents were asked to report their 1977 and 1976 end-of-year inventories at approximate current costs, if feasible; otherwise, at book values. Since different methods of inventory valuation are used (last-in-first-out (LIFO), first-in-first-out (FIFO), etc.), the definition of the value of inventories aggregate for all establishments in an industry is not precise. The change in inventory between years is of considerably greater significance.

In using inventory data by stage of fabrication for "all industries" and at the 2-digit industry level, it should be noted that an item treated as a finished product by an establishment in one industry may be reported as a raw material by another establishment in a different industry. For example, the finished product inventories of a steel mill would be reported as raw materials by a stamping plant. Such differences are present in the inventory figures by stage of fabrication shown for individual industries, industry groups, and "all manufacturing" which are aggregates of figures reported by establishments in specified industries.

SECTION 2. ITEMS COLLECTED ONLY ON ASM REPORT FORM

Cost of purchased services—ASM establishments were requested to provide information on the cost of purchased services for the repair of buildings and other structures, the repair of machinery and communication services. Included in the cost of purchased services for the repair of building and machinery are payments made for all maintenance and repair work on buildings and equipment such as painting, roof repairs, replacing parts, and overhauling equipment. Such payments made to other establishments of the same company and for repair and maintenance of any leased property are also included. Extensive repairs or reconstruction that were capitalized are considered capital expenditures for used buildings and machinery and are, therefore, excluded from this item. Repair and maintenance costs provided by an owner as part of a rental contract and incurred directly by an establishment in using its own work force are also excluded.

The response coverage ratio for each of the three types of purchased services listed above is a measure of the extent to which respondents reported for each item. It is derived for each item by calculating the ratio of the weighted employment (establishment data multiplied by sample weight; see appendix B) for those ASM establishments that reported the specific inquiry to the weighted total employment for all ASM establishments classified in the industry (see table 3c, chapters 2 and 4).

Rental payments—This item includes rental payments for the use of all items for which depreciation reserves would be maintained if they were owned by the establishment, e.g., structures and buildings, and production, office, and transportation equipment. Excluded are royalties and other payments for the use of intangibles and depletable assets, and land rents where separable.

When an establishment of a multiestablishment company was charged rent by another part of the same company for the use of assets owned by the company, it was instructed to exclude that cost from rental payments. However, the book value (original cost) of these company-owned assets were to be reported as assets of the establishment at the end of the year.

If there were assets at an establishment rented from another company, and the rents were paid centrally by the head office of the establishment, the company was instructed to report these rental payments as if they were paid directly by the establishment.

Supplemental labor costs—Supplemental labor costs are divided into legally required expenditures and payments for voluntary programs. The legally required portion consists primarily of Federal old age and survivors' insurance, unemployment compensation, and workers' compensation. Payments for voluntary programs include all programs not specifically required by legislation whether they were employer initiated or the result of collective bargaining. They include the employer portion of such plans as insurance premiums, premiums for supplemental accident and sickness insurance, pension plans, supplemental unemployment compensation, welfare plans, stock purchase plans on which the employer payment is not subject to withholding tax, and deferred profit-sharing plans. They exclude such items as company-operated cafeterias, in-plant medical services, free parking lots, discounts on employee purchases, and uniforms and work clothing for employees. While the excluded items do benefit employees, and all or part of their cost is generally similar to the items covered in the annual survey labor costs statistics, accounting records do not generally provide reliable figures on net employee benefits of these types.

Beginning and end-of-year depreciable assets—The data encompass all fixed depreciable assets on the books of establishments at the beginning and at the end of the year. The values shown represent the actual cost of assets at the time they were acquired, including all costs incurred in making the assets usable (such as transportation and installation). Included are all buildings, structures, machinery, and equipment (production, office, and transportation equipment) for which depreciation reserves are maintained. Excluded are nondepreciable capital assets, including inventories and intangible assets such as patent rights and royalties. Also excluded are land and depletable assets such as timber and mineral rights.

The definition of fixed depreciable assets is consistent with the definition of capital expenditures. For example, expenditures include actual capital outlays during the year, rather than the final value of equipment put in place and buildings completed during the year. Accordingly, the value of assets at the end of the year includes the value of construction in progress. In addition, respondents were requested to make certain that assets at the beginning of the year plus new and used capital expenditures, less retirements, equaled assets at the end of the year.

New and used capital expenditures—The data for total new capital expenditures, new building expenditures, new machinery expenditures, and total used capital expenditures are collected on all census forms. However, the breakdown between expenditures for used buildings and other structures and expenditures for used machinery and equipment is collected only on the ASM form. (See further explanation on capital expenditures in section 1.)

Breakdown of new capital expenditures for machinery and equipment—ASM establishments were requested to separate their capital expenditures for new machinery and equipment into (1) automobiles, trucks, etc., for highway use; (2) computers and peripheral data processing equipment; and (3) all other.

The category "automobiles, trucks, etc., for highway use" is intended to measure expenditures for vehicles designed for highway use which were acquired through a purchase of lease-purchase agreement. Vehicles normally operating off public highways—vehicles specifically designed to transport materials, property, or equipment on mining, construction, logging, and petroleum development projects—are excluded from this item.

The "not specified by kind" or n.s.k. item for expenditures for new machinery and buildings shown in table 3b represents the total machinery and equipment expenditures for establishments that did not break down their expenditures for the three specific categories. This means that for most industries the specific categories are understated.

Retirements—Included in this item is the gross value of assets sold, retired, scrapped, destroyed, etc., during 1977. When a complete operation or establishment changed ownership, the respondent was instructed to report the value of the assets sold at the original cost as recorded in the books of the seller. The respondent was also requested to report retirements of equipment or structures owned by a parent company that the establishment was using as if it were a tenant.

Depreciation charges—This item includes depreciation and amortization charged during the year against assets. Depreciation charged against fixed assets acquired since the beginning of the year and against assets sold or retired during the year are components of this category. Respondents were requested to make certain that they did not report accumulated depreciation.

APPENDIX C. Industry Descriptions

An enterprise is a business organization (i.e., company, service organization, membership organization, association, etc.) consisting of one or more establishments under common ownership or control. Furthermore, if an enterprise owns or controls other entities, all establishments of its subsidiaries are to be included as part of the owning or controlling enterprise. For purposes of this report, "domestic" activities include all 50 States and the District of Columbia. Do not include foreign activities, if any, except for reporting foreign assets in item 9. Consolidate all domestic activities, whether or not covered in the 1977 Economic Censuses by individual report forms.

If book records are not available, enter your best estimate. Before completing these items, please read the detailed instructions.

- ▶ Item 5 — Cost of materials, etc. — Report total delivered cost after discounts and including freight of the materials actually consumed or put in production during the year. Include purchases, interplant transfers, and withdrawal from inventories.
If there are no records of consumption, purchases may be reported instead for minor items. This can also be done for major items if purchases do not differ significantly from the amounts actually used. Where consumption of major items differs significantly from purchases, consumption may be estimated by adding beginning inventories to the amount purchased and subtracting ending inventories.
- ▶ Item 5a — Cost of materials, parts, supplies, containers, etc., consumed — The delivered cost figures should cover all raw materials, containers, scrap, supplies, etc., which were: (1) put into production, (2) used as operating supplies, (3) used in repair and maintenance. Item 5a should be consistent with the data in item 17B.
- ▶ Item 5b — Cost of products bought and sold — Report the cost of all products bought and sold in the same condition as when purchased, and not made part of another product manufactured by this establishment. (Total sales value of all products sold is to be reported in item 18 on the line for resales.)
- ▶ Item 5c — Cost of fuels consumed — Report the total cost of all fuels consumed for heat, power, transportation, or the generation of electricity. Do not include the estimated cost of fuels, such as sawdust or blast furnace gas, produced as a by-product of your manufacturing activities. Include anthracite and bituminous coal, coke, natural and manufactured gas, fuel oil, liquefied petroleum gas, gasoline, and all other fuels including purchased steam.
- ▶ Item 5d — Cost of purchased electricity — Report the total cost of electric energy purchased from other companies or received from other establishments of your company. Exclude the value of electricity generated and used at this establishment.
- ▶ Item 5e — Cost of contract work done for you by others on your materials — If any contract work was done by others on materials furnished by your establishment, report the total payments made during the year for such work, including freight out and in. Exclude the cost of materials worked on, which should be included in item 5a.
- ▶ Item 8 — Capital expenditures during year (Exclude expenditures for land) — Include all costs actually incurred during 1977 chargeable to the fixed assets accounts and of the type for which depreciation or amortization accounts are ordinarily maintained. This should include construction and repair work performed by your own forces.

APPENDIX F. Annual Survey of Manufactures

DESCRIPTION OF SURVEY SAMPLE

The annual survey of manufactures (ASM) is a survey based on a probability sample of about 70,000 manufacturing establishments selected from the census of manufactures universe. The current sample was selected from the manufacturing establishments included in the 1972 Census of Manufactures supplemented by Social Security Administration (SSA) files of manufacturers that opened after 1972. As in the earlier surveys, companies rather than establishments were defined as the sampling units. The selected companies were required to report for all of their plants, so that new establishments of existing companies also were represented in the sample.

All companies that had any manufacturing establishments with 250 employees or more in the 1972 census were included in the survey sample. These large companies, included with certainty, collectively account for more than two-thirds of total manufacturing employment.

Smaller companies were selected for the ASM in accordance with mathematical theory for optimum allocation of a sample. Their probabilities of inclusion ranged from 1.000 to 0.005 and were proportional to measures of size determined for each company. The measures of size of companies included in the 1972 Census of Manufactures depended directly upon each company's 1972 product class values and the historic variability of the year-to-year shipments of each product class. Roughly equivalent measures of size were assigned to the postcensus companies based on their industry codes and anticipated employment. (More specific information was not available for them in the SSA files used for sampling.)

To improve the reliability of the industry statistics for geographic areas, two features were incorporated into the sample design. First, some weight was given to the total value of shipments of each establishment relative to the total value of shipments for the State in which the establishment was located. Second, product class values for establishments in those States in which the total level of manufacturing was relatively low or was rapidly expanding (but for which the reliability of estimates was not expected to be much improved by the first sample design feature) were multiplied by factors ranging from 1.15 to 1.25 before measures of size were developed.

This method of assigning measures of size was used to maximize the precision (i.e., minimize the variance) of estimates of the year-to-year change in the value of product class shipments. Implicitly, it also gave weight to differences in employment, value added, and other industry statistics. These items are highly correlated with total value of shipments, and the assigned size measures varied directly with that total for each company.

The cost of collecting and processing data for a company is roughly proportional to the number of its establishment reports. To maximize the sample information obtained for a fixed total cost, each company's initial size measure was divided by the square root of its number of establishments. Sample selection probabilities then were obtained by multiplying each company's final measure of size by an overall sampling fraction calculated to yield the total expected sample size.

The sample selection procedure gave each company in the sampling frame an independent chance of selection. This method of selection differs from the method of systematic selection used in annual surveys prior to 1959. (With systematic selection, only certain combinations of companies can fall into the sample depending on the order in which they are arrayed at the time the sample is drawn.) Independent selection permits the rotation of the smaller companies into and out of a given sample panel without introducing a bias into the survey estimates.

ESTIMATING PROCEDURES

Most of the historical data compiled from the annual survey of manufactures sample were computed by the "difference estimate formula." For each item, linear estimates of the totals for both the most recent census of manufactures year and the ASM year were developed by multiplying each sample establishment's data by its sample weight (the reciprocal of its probability of selection) and summing the weighted values to publication levels. Then the difference between the two linear estimates was added to the complete (universe) total for the census year to produce the estimate for the ASM year. Estimates developed by the difference estimate formula usually are far more reliable than the comparable linear estimates developed from the current sample data alone.

The 1977 sample data were also developed using difference estimates. However, since the universe totals for the census year (either 1972 or 1977) were not known, a modification of the procedure described above was necessary. For each item, except purchased services and the breakdown of expenditures for new machinery and equipment (see further description in appendix A), linear estimates of the publication totals from the ASM sample were adjusted by the difference between imputed census totals and the corresponding ASM sample estimates of these imputed totals. These imputed totals are obtained by applying industry average ratios to control item values at the establishment level. For example, an imputed total beginning assets figure is obtained by multiplying each establishment's total value of shipments by the industry (4-digit SIC) average for the ratio of beginning assets to shipments.

QUALIFICATIONS OF THE DATA

The estimates developed from the sample are apt to differ somewhat from the results of a survey covering all companies in the sampled lists but otherwise conducted under essentially the same conditions as the actual sample survey. The sampling errors—the differences between the estimates obtained and the results theoretically obtainable from a comparable complete coverage survey—are unknown. Guides to the potential size of the sampling errors, however, are provided by the standard errors of the estimates.

The particular sample selected for the ASM is one of a large number of similar probability samples that, by chance, might have been selected under the same specifications. Each of the possible samples would yield somewhat different sets of results, and the standard errors are measures of the variation of all the possible sample estimates around the theoretical, comparable, complete coverage values.

Estimates of the standard errors have been computed from the sample data for the current statistics, as well as the historical ASM data. They are presented in the form of relative standard errors, i.e., the standard errors divided by the estimated values to which they refer.

In conjunction with its associated estimate, the relative standard error may be used to define confidence intervals—ranges that would include the comparable complete coverage value for specified percentages of all the possible samples. The complete coverage value would be included in the range:

- a. From one standard error below to one standard error above the derived estimate for about two-thirds of all possible samples.
- b. From two standard errors below to two standard errors above the derived estimate for about 19 out of 20 of all possible samples.
- c. From three standard errors below to three standard errors above the derived estimate for nearly all possible samples.

An inference that the comparable complete survey result would be within the indicated ranges would be correct in approximately the relative frequencies shown. Those proportions, therefore, may be interpreted as defining the confidence with which the estimates from a particular sample would differ from complete coverage results by as much as one, two, or three standard errors, respectively.

For example, suppose an estimated total is shown as 50,000 with an associated relative standard error of 2 percent, i.e., a standard error of 1,000 (2 percent of 50,000). Then there is approximately 67 percent confidence that the interval 49,000 to 51,000 includes the complete coverage total, about 95 percent confidence that the interval 48,000 to 52,000 includes the complete coverage total, and almost certain confidence that the interval 47,000 to 53,000 includes the complete coverage total.

In addition to the sample errors, the estimates are subject to various operational errors (errors of collection, reporting, coding, transcription, imputation for nonresponse, etc.). These errors would also occur if a complete canvass were to be conducted under the same conditions as the survey. Explicit measures of their effects generally are not available. However, it is believed that most of the important operational errors were detected and corrected in the course of the Bureau's review of the data for reasonableness and consistency. When they were detected too late to correct, the data were suppressed or were specifically qualified in the tables. The small operational errors usually remain; to some extent, they are compensating in the aggregated totals shown.

As derived, the estimated standard errors include part of the effect of the operational errors. The total error, which depends upon the joint effect of the sampling and operation errors, is usually of the order of size indicated by the standard error or only moderately higher. For particular estimates, however, the total error may considerably exceed the standard errors shown.

The concept of complete coverage under the conditions prevailing for the annual surveys of manufactures is not identical to the complete coverage of the censuses of manufactures as conducted. Nearly all types of operational errors that affect the surveys also occur in the censuses. The surveys and the censuses, however, are conducted under quite different conditions, and operational errors can be controlled more tightly in the surveys than in the censuses. As a result, errors in many of the census figures are of the same order of size as the total errors in the corresponding annual survey estimates. The differences between the census and the survey operating conditions also disturb, to some degree, the comparability of the census and annual survey data.

Any figure shown in the tables in this publication having an associated standard error exceeding 15 percent may be of limited reliability. However, the figure may be combined with other totals, creating a broader aggregate, which may then be of acceptable reliability.
